APNA GHAR'S 30TH ANNIVERSARY GALA

Nearly 70% of all women worldwide could experience gender violence in their lifetimes, and yet it is the most overlooked human rights issue.

Why Apna Ghar

Apna Ghar is a human rights organization working to end gender violence with an evidence-based model that factors in macro and micro level conditions that create the unique barriers that our program participants face.

We believe that every person has the right to safety, stability and self-sufficiency. In the last 30 years, Apna Ghar has reached over 100,000 survivors and community members, in an effort to address and end this global human rights violation and public health concern.

Apna Ghar provides critical, comprehensive, culturally competent services and conducts outreach and advocacy across communities to end gender violence. Our solutions-focused approach to systems change includes whole families, engages communities and our partners and informs the policies and laws that impact survivors.
