- Service centers remain open. This means that marriage-based applications, applications to remove conditions on green cards based on abuse/physical harm, and the like can still be filed.

- All in-person immigration services are closed until April 1, 2020. This means that no immigration interviews, fingerprinting appointments, or other in-person services will go forward before that date. Emergency appointments are still available but will require special consideration.
- The Chicago Immigration Court has postponed all hearings until April 10th. Anybody with an immigration court hearing scheduled between now and that date should consult with their attorney to verify the new hearing date
